A BRIEF HISTORY

This past summer, professional photographer Andy Bale joined the Pemi family for his inaugural residency as one of our "Visiting Professionals." During two weeks of heavily subscribed morning occupations and afternoon and evening workshops, Andy inspired dozens of campers, young and old, with a dazzling range of traditional and innovative photographic techniques, from Pinhole Paintcan and Cyanotype Photography to Night Painting Digital Photography.

Andy has said repeatedly how inspired he himself was by Pemi's singular sense of community and by the beauty of our natural setting. One of his own most compelling images is of a stunning Lower Baker sunset — always a scenic and evocative vista — but captured by Andy in a way that is little short of breath-taking. He now offers a limited edition print to Pemi families and alums, and is generously offering to contribute 30% of the proceeds to a scholarship for a worthy Pemi camper. We urge you all to take advantage of this unique opportunity to bring a richly evocative work of art into your home or the home of another Pemi-ite — and, in the process, to help make the Pemi experience available to another deserving young man in 2011.
